For: IMMUNOTHERAPEUTIC COMBINATION FOR THE TREATMENT OF TUMORS
THAT OVER-EXPRESS RECEPTORS WITH TYROSINE KINASE ACTIVITY

LETTER RE ADDITIONAL CLAIMS

Commissioner of Patent
Washington, D.C. 20231

April 23, 2002

Sir:

In response to the Notice to File Missing Parts dated April 15, 2002, the PTO had requested the payment of $1,332 for 148 total claims over 20. On December 7, 2001, a Preliminary Amendment was filed deleting the multiple dependency of claim 27, so that the application contains no multiple dependent claims, and a total of 33 claims with 4 independent claims. The undersigned does not know how the 148 total claims were calculated, but believes that this total is an error.

In the event any fees are required, please charge our Deposit Account No. 01-2300.

Respectfully submitted,
Arent Fox Kintner Plotkin & Kahn, PLLC

The first part of the paper discusses the importance of understanding the cultural context of the research. It highlights the need for researchers to be sensitive to the values and beliefs of the communities they are studying. This is particularly important in the field of education, where cultural differences can significantly impact learning outcomes.

The second part of the paper focuses on the methodology used in the study. It describes the process of selecting participants, collecting data, and analyzing the results. The authors emphasize the importance of using a mixed-methods approach to gain a comprehensive understanding of the research topic.

The third part of the paper presents the findings of the study. It discusses the results of the quantitative data analysis and the insights gained from the qualitative interviews. The authors conclude that there are significant cultural differences in the way that students learn and that these differences should be taken into account when designing educational programs.

The final part of the paper offers recommendations for future research and practice. It suggests that further studies should be conducted to explore the cultural factors that influence learning outcomes. Additionally, it recommends that educators should be trained to recognize and address cultural differences in the classroom.
